State College Regents' Action Stuns Reynolds

Governor 'Shocked' By Appointment of Hill to Committee

MADISON (AP)—Gov. John W. Reynolds said Friday he was "literally shocked" by the state college regents' action in removing Robert De Zonia as co-director of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

"I am shocked that they would take the staff and shift it all around without consulting the coordinating committee or this office," Reynolds told a news conference.

The governor, who returned from Washington Thursday night and learned that De Zonia had been replaced by Superior State College president Jim Dan Hill, said that the state college or University of Wisconsin regents "arbitrarily can wreck" the coordinating committee staff.

"I do have confidence in Mr. De Zonia and I don't know anything about Mr. Hill," Reynolds said.

The state college regents named Karl W. Meyer of Madison to succeed Hill as president at Superior. Reynolds said he was angered because the regents did not discuss the changes with him "and they knew 30 days ago they were going to do this."

The governor said he had considered giving the coordinating committee authority to allocate funds under a new federal law providing money for construction at public and private colleges. He indicated that now he would withhold such authorization.

Earlier Friday, the coordinating committee voted 9-5 in a secret ballot to urge the college regents to reconsider the staff changes. Meyer Cohen of Green Bay led the fight against the regents' action.

Cohen, a citizen member of the coordinating committee, said the changes "challenge the independence of this committee and its very existence."

John D. Rice of Sparta, also a citizen member, said the changes were too abrupt and "almost the secrecy of a coup."

French Recognition of China Won't Change U. S. Policies

Old Senate Friends Of Johnson's Unveil Strategy for South

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two old senatorial friends of President Johnson appear to have unveiled the strategy by which he hopes to salvage some Southern electoral support while championing civil rights.

As it emerged in speeches Friday night by two leading Dixie senators — Richard B. Russell of Georgia and George A. Smathers of Florida — the formula pointed toward convincing Southerners:

—That they can blame any civil rights legislation that Congress may enact primarily on those whom Russell called "professional agitators."

—That they should retain loyalty to the Democratic party because the Republicans offer no better alternative.

Rusk Assures South Korean and Japanese Leaders During Talks

BY SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is seeking to cushion the impact of the impending French recognition of Communist China with reassurances that it will not change U.S. policy in the Far East.

High diplomatic sources making this known today said Secretary of State Dean Rusk in private talks with Japanese and South Korean leaders over the next five days will stress American intentions to hold the line in its policy toward Peking.

Rusk is due to make an important policy speech in Tokyo next Tuesday in which he will restate the American policy of supporting the independence of young postwar countries faced with Communist subversion and infiltration.

Negro Enters GOP Primary In Wisconsin

NEW YORK (AP)—A Negro, who says he wants to "create a Negro power bloc through pulling together Negro voter strength," announced plans Friday to enter the Wisconsin GOP presidential primary April 7.

Atty. Paul Zuber said he also would enter primaries in New Hampshire, West Virginia, Illinois, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Massachusetts and California.

Criticizing what he called "misdirected action" on the part of Negro civil rights leaders, Zuber said "too many Negroes are lying down when they should be pushing the politician out of office."

"If the Negro is going to lie down, let him lie down in the voter registration lines," Zuber said.

After his announcement, Zuber left New York to represent a civil rights group in the Chicago school integration case. He also has served as chief counsel in school integration cases in New York City, New Rochelle, N.Y., and Englewood, N.J.

134-Foot Balloon in Polar Flight

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A folded balloon designed to become the world's largest satellite inflated successfully in space today about an hour after rocketing toward an orbit around the earth's poles.

U.S. Space Agency officials declined to claim complete success for the 134-foot diameter Echo 2, however, until it has completed at least one, 111-minute swing around the globe.

The launching atop the Thor-Agena B booster at 5:39 a.m. appeared normal.

The 535-pound Echo 2, was ejected from a 30x40 inch canister in the nose of the second-stage Agena and began inflating at a height of 800 miles.

Will Be Visible

The glittering sphere was to be visible many times during its estimated three-year life from every point on the globe.

Russians were to get their first look a few hours after launch, officials said; Americans would have to wait 10 to 12 hours, until the balloon was illuminated by rays from the sun at dusk on the sixth and seventh orbits.

The United States and the Soviet Union agreed last August to try to bounce radio signals off Echo 2's reflective skin in a series of tests which the U.S. Space Agency said would be the two powers' first cooperative experiment with a communications satellite.

The agreement called for voice, facsimile pictures and code signals to be bounced off the satellite between giant antennas at the Zemenky Observatory near Moscow and the Jodrell Bank Observatory in England.

Dallas Doctors Tell of Treatments Given to Kennedy at Hospital

Massive Head, Brain Injuries Prevents Fanning Heart to Life

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Dallas doctors who treated President John F. Kennedy said that a massive head and brain injury kept them from fanning a faint heart beat back to life.

The current issue of the Texas State Journal of Medicine carries seven separate statements from resident physicians of Parkland Hospital who treated Kennedy Nov. 22.

Dr. M. T. Jenkins, 46, one of the physicians, said that it is his personal feeling "that all methods of resuscitation were instituted expeditiously and efficiently. However, the cranial and intracranial damage was of such magnitude as to cause irreversible damage."

The article, entitled "Three Patients at Parkland," also describes the treatment given Texas Gov. John Connally, who was wounded in the Nov. 22 attack, and that given Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin who was shot in the Dallas Police Station Nov. 24.

Night club operator Jack Ruby has been held without bond in Oswald's death and is scheduled for trial Feb. 17.

The report said Oswald was shot through the spleen, pancreas, kidney, liver and stomach. He died about 1½ hours later on the Parkland Hospital operating table. "The trauma (shock) which patient Oswald had sustained was too great for resuscitation," Jenkins said.

The doctors said Connally regained consciousness after a three-hour and 15-minute operation on his chest, arm and leg, "saying he felt well but he was somewhat restless." Connally is recuperating and expects to return to his office Feb. 1.

The medical journal said it asked the Dallas doctors to record their experiences within hours after the shootings.

Each physician gave a separate account with considerable duplication.

Agonal Effects
Dr. Charles J. Carrico, 28, first physician to see Kennedy, said: "When the patient entered the emergency room on an ambulance carriage (about 12:30 p.m. CST) he had slow agonal respiratory efforts and occasional cardiac beats detectable by auscultation."

There were two external wounds noted, one in the neck and the other a massive head and brain injury. "No pulse or blood pressure were present." A tube was inserted in the trachea past the ragged wound and mechanical respiration began. At the same time intravenous infusions were made in the right leg and left arm. Respiration also began with an anesthesia machine.

"Despite these measures operating table. The trauma (shock) which patient Oswald had sustained was too great for resuscitation," Jenkins said.

Tells of New Sugar Contract

Castro Denies Cuban Panama Involvement

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro denied Friday night his government was involved in the Panama Canal violence but said Cuba was willing to suffer sacrifices in order to give economic aid to Panama.

"When the things happened in Panama, the imperialists accused the Castroites and Communists," Castro said in a radio broadcast. "Cuba's interests coincide with the demands of the Panamanians, but we had nothing to do with that."

Actually, he said, Cuba was "careful to give the United States no reason to practice subterfuge against that movement."

In his speech, Castro reported to the Cubans on his trip to Moscow during which he signed a six-year, $3.2-billion contract to sell sugar to the Russians. Castro returned from Moscow Thursday.

"Improved Contract"
Castro described the contract as an improvement over Cuba's former sugar agreements with the United States, and added:

"The tragedy of Latin America is that today products are worth half what was received 10 years ago, and with that half they must buy products from the United States priced at double that of 10 years ago."

Under the Soviet contract, Cuba will receive 6 cents a pound in Russian merchandise. The current world market price is about 10 cents.

Castro said Soviet Premier Khrushchev "insisted on paying us more than 6 cents, but we told him that was not just."

"Khrushchev told me he did not want to take advantage of paying us one price now and later another lower one according to changes in the market," Castro said.

De Gaulle Tells Why He Agreed To Peking Ties

Cannot Ignore Most Powerful Nation in Far East, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle has sent word to President Johnson that he decided to recognize Red China primarily because he felt it unwise in a rapidly changing world to ignore any longer the largest and most powerful nation in the Far East.

De Gaulle's argument, made known to the State Department and White House through various diplomatic channels, boiled down to a contention that the U.S. policy of trying to isolate the Communist mainland of China from the world of allied nations is unproductive and out of date.

Report by Pearson
The latest and perhaps most comprehensive presentation of De Gaulle's views on this alliance-straining issue was made by Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson when he conferred here Wednesday with President Johnson.

Pearson came here following a visit to Paris last week during which he had several talks with the French leader.

France is expected to announce recognition next week and take immediate steps to establish full diplomatic relations with the Red Regime in Peking. A week from today De Gaulle is scheduled to hold a news conference and the prospect is that he will set forth his position on the China question at that time.

De Gaulle's Views
As now understood by top U.S. officials, his views cover these major points:

1. He feels there is a vacuum in Western policy in the Far East because of a lack of effective contact between the Western powers and the Red Chinese leadership. Thus he has argued that the Western powers will gain in the long run from having France move into the gap.

2. De Gaulle sees the split between the Soviet Union and Red China as a tremendous power conflict rather than an ideological struggle over Communist doctrine as many Western experts ordinarily describe it. He feels it is important for the West to have maximum contacts with both sides in this struggle, not just with the Soviet side.

3. Under terms of the understanding which he has reached with Red China for establishing recognition, De Gaulle believes he may be laying a basis for a two-China policy since the Chinese did not lay down the condition that recognition covered also their claim to Formosa.

4. Once relations are established, De Gaulle believes it should be possible to use French influence in Peking to work for Red Chinese acceptance and support of a true policy of neutrality in Southeast Asia—where the East-West conflict now centers in South Viet Nam.

Trial of Hoffa To Start Monday

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A jury which the defense charged was picked in a "poisoned atmosphere" was ready today and waiting to hear the trial of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, charged with jury tampering.

Agreement on a jury of eight men and four women climaxed a long, intense struggle Friday in which a determined federal judge rode hard on bickering attorneys until the task was accomplished.

U.S. District Judge Frank Wilson ran his court into a rare session in an unsuccessful effort to qualify four alternate jurors and clear the deck for the government to start presenting its case Monday.

Hoffa and five other men went on trial last Monday on charges of attempting to influence the jury in his 1962 conspiracy trial at Nashville. That case ended in a mistrial with a deadlocked jury.

McMahon Architect Works on Mall Model

MENASHA — Leonard Urban, architect for McMahon Engineering Co., is preparing a model which will be used to demonstrate how a mall will look if constructed in Menasha's "square" and help planners decide whether one will be installed.

Urban, working on a voluntary basis, said he expects to complete the model by this spring.

He is working with a group of "interested residents" in building the model.

Good Site
He said the city square is definitely a good site and arranged properly for a mall and that merchants there are interested in the construction of one.

Several meetings of the residents are planned in the near future to work out details of a possible mall.

Urban said the mall will depend on what the merchants, residents and the Chamber of Commerce wants. He said the scheme is to make the mall acceptable to everyone.

He led the Chapel Choir on its first tour of Europe in 1952, and is planning a trip to the Orient next summer.

British Troops Quell Outbreak In Tanganyika

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — British commandos quelled a new outburst of mutiny in Tanganyika today. Three African soldiers were killed and 20 others wounded in the brief uprising.

The latest flareup of African troops in former British East Africa came as the rash of mutinies spread Friday night to neighboring Kenya.

The Kenya uprising also was put down by British troops. Some 400 British commandos landed at Dar es Salaam with helicopter support from the British carrier Centaur early today at the request of Tanganyika's moderate president, Julius Nyerere.

It was the second army uprising in Tanganyika within a week. Last Monday Nyerere's soldiers revolted against their British officers and precipitated rioting and looting during which at least 17 persons were killed.

Brigade to be Flown in New Airlift Test

Could Result in Wider Use of Depot Ships, Officials Say

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 4,000-man brigade of Army infantrymen is about to bolt across the Pacific in the first test of a new technique for moving airlifted troops with heavy gear stockpiled afloat.

If the test works, it could herald wider use of depot ships moored in strategically located harbors and ready to rendezvous with reinforcements at crisis points.

In this exercise, called "Quick Release," a brigade of the 25th Division will be flown some 5,000 miles from Hawaii to Okinawa.

The move will start this weekend, with the brigade flying aboard C135 jet transports and C124 propeller-driven Globemasters of the Military Air Transport Service.

Depot Ships on Way
The soldiers will carry only their basic personal belongings, rifles and other light arms.

Meanwhile, three depot ships are en route from Subic Bay in the Philippines loaded with tanks, artillery, ammunition and other stocks. These ships are due in Okinawa next week.

After the equipment is unloaded at an as-yet undisclosed place on Okinawa, the troops will draw it and presumably be ready to fight.

Whether the vehicles and other gear will be in combat shape remains to be seen—this is one reason for the exercise.

A different kind of "prepositioning" was tried and declared successful during the "Big Lift" of a full 16,000-man armored division to West Germany from Texas last fall.

The hundreds of tanks, armored personnel carriers, trucks and other heavy stuff drawn by the 2nd Armored Division in Germany had been waiting in depots for two years.

Certain key defense officials see prepositioning as a way possibly to reduce overseas deployments of U.S. troops and still enable the United States to bring combat power to bear abroad quickly.

Highways Slick In North Third Of Wisconsin

MADISON (AP)—Snow, sleet and freezing rain have caused slippery highways and hazardous driving conditions in the northern third of Wisconsin, the State Highway Commission reported today.

The area affected is north of a line extending from Hudson through Stevens Point to Marinette. High winds, blowing snow and dropping temperatures are contributing to the poor driving conditions.

South of the line, the commission said, highways are generally bare and in good winter driving condition.

Soo Railroad Net 1963 Income Up 32 Per Cent

Net income for the Soo Line Railroad Company for 1963 of $4,096,342, or $3.24 per share, was announced Wednesday by Leonard H. Murray, president.

The year's net income was 32 per cent greater than the $3,100,063 earned in 1962.

Revenues for 1963 were moderately greater than those for 1962; Murray said — $80,563,630 for 1963 compared to $80,304,470 for 1962.

“By operating more efficiently during 1963, we were able to carry a greater portion of our revenue through to net despite substantial increases in our maintenance programs,” he said.

Two factors contributed significantly to the Soo's better earnings in 1963, Murray said.

“First, we handled more business at considerably less transportation expense. And second, we reduced by approximately $925,000, or nearly 20 per cent, this Marathon Community of our expenses for the rental of 2,800, donated 10½ acres of land to the village Friday as a site for a proposed swimming pool.

Charley L. Wagner, manager of Marathon's Rothschild mill, announced the gift in a letter to village President Hugo C. Falk. The land is valued at about $40,000.

Gary Johanknecht tallied 27 points and Brian Erickson 15 for the Comets. Jim Buschke scored 16 for the Wolves and Bill Testin added 12.

Wauwage led throughout its tilt with the Thunderbirds, leading by 42-28 at intermission and coasting through the remaining frames.

Valders Upset

Chilton Trips Elkhart Lake 78-52; Last Second Bucket Nips Brillion

EASTERN WIS. CONFERENCE
W	L	Pct.
Valders	7	1
New Holstein	6	2
Oostburg	6	2
Plymouth	5	3
Sheb. Falls	5	3

Friday's Results:
Chilton 78, Elkhart Lake 52.
Kohler 73, Brillion 72.
Oostburg 46, Valders 41.
New Holstein 79, Sheboygan Falls 71.
Plymouth 53, Kiel 38.

CHILTON — The Chilton Tigers took an early first quarter lead and went on to swamp Elkhart Lake 78-52 in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference tilt here last night.

Behind the sharp shooting of Jim Vogel and Al Whitby, the Tigers led all the way. Vogel scored 24 while Whitby dumped in 13.

The Tigers played an alert game and overcame a Resorter full court press during the second half with freshman Don McHugh performing as cool as a veteran.

Chilton's rebounding game came into its own with Whitby and Tom Dhein controlling the boards.

Bad Ball Handling
Elkhart Lake had difficulty scoring and holding the ball. Bad passes and poor ball handling were the rule rather than the exception.

The key to the Resorter loss seemed to have been the inability of their top scorer, Brian Weise, to get the ball through the hoop. Averaging over 20 points a game until this week, Weise scored only five points.

Although not hitting big in the scoring column, Weise looked like a one-man team on defense and play making.

Lions Lose
The Brillion Lions dropped their seventh game of the season last night at Kohler bowing to the Blue Bombers, 73-72.

It was a see-saw battle down to the final buzzer. Neither team led by more than five points at any time during the game.

Paul Maki, a 5'1" Kohler guard, sank a short jump shot for the winning tally with only four seconds left in the game.

Jim Ross, high scoring forward for the Lions, led all scorers with 26 points. High for Kohler was Arlyn Wessel with 19.

Brillion had control of the game in the first quarter but trailed by four at halftime.

At the end of the third quarter they had narrowed it down to one and that is the way the game ended.

Valders Upset
The upset of the season took place at Oostburg when the Flying Dutchmen dropped the Val-ders Vikings from the ranks of the undefeated downing the conference leaders, 46-41.

The loss was the first for Valders in 13 starts. They were playing without the services of their high scoring center, Dennis Scheidt, who sustained a knee injury in a non-conference tilt with Denmark Tuesday night.

It was a low scoring game. Valders tallied only 11 points in the first half. Oostburg hit 25. The Vikings came back in the second half and outscored the Flying Dutchmen, 30-21.

Support of Civic Leaders Sought by Plan Commission

Citizen Commtee Reviews Regional Expressway Plans

The Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission Thursday night made for the support of Valley civic leaders at the first meeting of Citizens Organization for Regional Planning (CORP).

"We need your support," Appleton City Planner Walter Rasmussen, a member of the commission, told the volunteer group.

"Our prestige and your decision-making ability is recognized in the community," he said. "We need your support of state legislation, and of various community programs."

"We need people who are not concerned with how much they will take on a particular project, or any other personal feelings," he added. "We can't function under those circumstances."

"People Will Listen"
"We want to load these meetings with people like you," Rasmussen said.

V. A. Kopitzke, teacher at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center and chairman of the regional planning commission's education committee, which was largely responsible for the formation of CORP, discussed the nature of the commission.

Kopitzke said the greatest service the new organization could do for the community was to "talk."

"You are a cross section of the community, influential and responsible people," he said. "People will listen to you."

He said the Fox Valley commission, organized in 1956, was the first in the state. Four others have been formed since, he said.

The professor termed the organization "unique" because it is formed by metropolitan agencies, not by counties as are other planning groups in the state.

Advisory Services
Kopitzke defined the commission as being responsible for future orderly development and providing various advisory services in the region.

"Now we have a comprehensive plan," he said, "but this is the beginning, not the end. We need implementation. We need action."

Eugene Franchett, commission director, explained some of the work of the commission.

The work includes zoning subdivision regulations, a soil survey, a uniform building code, and work toward passage of a multi-service district bill.

The bill, introduced in State Legislature by Sen. Gerald Lorge (R-Bear Creek) would allow separate governmental bodies to form districts to provide special services, such as parks, on a regional basis.

The bill is currently in a legislative study committee and a hearing in the Fox Valley is expected in the next couple of months, Franchett said.

He answered charges which claim the bill would be "underocratic." Any regional service proposal under the provisions of the bill would have to go to voters for a referendum, Franchett said.

The commission's proposed regional expressway system was reviewed in detail by Outagamie County Highway Commissioner Clarence Brownson and Rasmussen.

According to the plan, the road would stretch from U.S. 41 at Menasha, south of the Fox Cities, and back to 41 beyond Kaukauna with connecting roads to 41 between the origin points.

State Highway Department engineers are currently working on development of plans for a bridge across Little Lake Butte des Morts at Menasha.

To better point up the need for planning and the commission's proposals, an aerial film of the Valley made by the commission was shown.

Issue Warning: Stay Away From Channel Areas

OSHKOSH — Conservation department officials have issued a warning to people to stay away from river channel areas of the area lakes with cars. With the warm weather of the last 10 days the river current has eroded the channel ice and has made those sections of the lakes dangerous.

The car of an Oshkosh motorist, Harold Helling, 427 W. 14th Ave., went through the ice of Lake Poygan Thursday morning at Hanks Boat Livery on County Trunk B, West of Winneconne. Helling escaped unharm-

The Conservation Department reported there was about 22 inches of ice on Lake Winnebago and the big lake was entirely safe to the best of their knowledge. There also is "plenty of safe ice on Lakes Butte des Morts and Poygan," they reported, "but motorists should make a point of knowing where the river channels are."

They also warned fishermen of Big Green Lake. "It is the most dangerous lake in the state right now," conservation officials said. Only the eastern third of the lake is frozen and there is about 4½ miles of open water. "Don't drive beyond marked areas," they warned.

State Aeronautics Commission
Director Speaks at Oshkosh

BY ALLAN EKVAL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
OSHKOSH—Recommended location of a regional airport to serve the Fox River Valley area may be announced sometime in April, by the Civil Aeronautics Board hearing examiner, T. K. Jordan, State Aeronautics Commission director, indicated here Thursday.

Jordan made the prediction, which he said was his opinion, at a meeting of the Winnebago County Aviation Committee with representatives of his office and the St. Paul and Kansas City offices of the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA).

Both Outagamie and Winnebago counties are asking to be designated as the regional airport location.

Jordan said he would hesitate to guess what would happen after the CAB examiner makes his recommendation as to the airport's location.

The civil Aeronautics Board reviews this recommendation, then makes its decision. An appeal from that decision can be taken to the courts.

Airport Hearings
Hearings on the regional airport location not only for the Fox River Valley area but for other parts of the state were held at Wausau last July and continue later at Washington. E. T. Stodola was the hearing examiner. At the close of the hearings he suggested Outagamie and Winnebago counties get together for a joint airport discussion, but such a meeting never came about.

The Winnebago County Board Tuesday tabled until March 17 a resolution proposing a joint meeting with Outagamie County to discuss the airport matter and a possible joint airport operation.

Vote on tabling the resolution was 27 to 23.

Hear Study
The meeting was called to hear a presentation of the engineering study conducted by Howard, Needles, Tammen and Oergendoff, national consulting engineers. Joseph H. Looper, manager of the Milwaukee office of that firm, made the presentation, assisted by Ralph Drechsel.

The meeting was called to see if the State Commission Office or the FAA had any comments as to the report and its recommendations.

FAA personnel said they doubted if the FAA would make any suggestions or recommendations until after the CAB decision. They could, upon formal request, begin an evaluation of certain aspects of the report such as on the air space evaluation or on the effect other airport locations might have on the Winnebago Airport.

The county board, Jordan said, must decide if it wants an evaluation at this time, if it wants to wait for the CAB decision or if it prefers further studies.

Awaiting Decision
Popp indicated everybody is waiting for the CAB decision while the CAB in turn is seeking guidance from community actions.

"A clear-cut decision of either county or of both counties would have a bearing on the decision. The CAB has asked us to advise it of the community's actions."

"If we had not voted to table it, we would have had that decision," Supv. Joseph Drexler, county board chairman, commented.

The program will be undertaken by the Outagamie County Medical Society, which intends to purchase the Sabin vaccine, according to Dr. Jack G. Anderson, society president.

Mass oral vaccination clinics have been held in several counties after being delayed in 1963 on the advice of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Four clinics will be in Appleton, and the other five elsewhere in the county. Specific sites will be announced soon by Dr. George Behnke, Kaukauna, general chairman for the program.

Arrested Thursday

Neenah Trio Admits Nine Break-Ins In Waupaca, Portage County Areas

WAUPACA — Eight break-ins in Waupaca County and one in Portage County have been admitted by the three Neenah men who were arrested early Thursday morning at their homes.

Sheriff Loran Frazier, who with Clintonville Police Chief James Beggs and New London Police Chief Jack Algiers, participated in the original arrests, worked most of Wednesday night and early Thursday morning searching the homes of the men.

Sheriff Frazier said Sheriff Calvin Spice, Outagamie County, and his investigators, Jack Zuelzke and Russell Bowers, Neenah, Menasha and Winnebago County police met at the Menasha police station to plan the raid.

Three Details
Waupaca Municipal Justice George Whalen was called to his office about 11 p.m. Wednesday to issue warrants for the arrests, which allowed authorities to search the homes.

Frazier said the police divided into three details to raid the houses of the suspects at the same time.

Two of the three men admitted to the Waupaca group a series of break-ins which centered mostly at New London.

They included the Tribby Hardware Store, Markman's Department Store, New London Co-Operative Exchange, Tews Buick and New London Golf Club.

The men also admitted entering Clintonville Sales; Wolf River Oil Co., Fremont; Conroy Bear Lake Resort and the Amherst Co-Operative.

Frazier said some of the loot taken by the men was found, but other items such as money and liquor is missing.

Boat Motor
A 10-horsepower outboard motor and a can of gasoline was recovered for Wolf River Oil.

Co.; television set and radio from the New London Golf Club; transistor radio, pail and the head of a 19-point buck deer, a trophy owned by Robert Conroy, was recovered from the Bear Lake entry.

Among items recovered which came from the Amherst Co-Operative include an ice auger, two wrist watches, a toaster, two steam irons, two walkie-talkies, coffee pot and assorted Christmas tree lights.

Ten hunting knives belonging to the Tribby store also were recovered along with other items taken from the other business places at New London.

Frazier said the men also admitted breaking into several gasoline stations in Shawano County.

He said he believes Winnebago County officials will ask to have all of the charges consolidated, so the case can be handled in Winnebago County.

Hilbert Wunsch, Jaycee chairman for the OYF program, has released a resume on each of the finalists who were chosen on the basis of career progress, conservation practices and service to community.

Behnke operates a 140-acre dairy farm. He rents an additional 22 acres and 102 of the 162 acres are in cropland.

He has overcome a serious erosion problem through the use of diversion and contour strip cropping.

Behnke follows a testing and fertility program recommended by the ASCS and a local agricultural technician. He has been a SCS cooperator since 1958.

Improved Herd

He has 38 cows and 16 heifers and has increased the herd's butterfat average from 320 to 416 pounds.

Blankschien, 32, has 140 acres of which 90 are cropland. He has 22 cows and increased the herd's butterfat average from 301 to 360 pounds.

On a continuous soil testing program, Blankschien has limed and fertilized accordingly. He has established 2,100 feet of waterway and has gone to a grassland type of agriculture to control erosion.

206 Acres
Bonikowske, 27, is a dairy farmer with 206 acres, of which 110 are in cropland.

Bonikowske has 28 cows and has increased their butterfat average from 341 to 390 pounds since he had the farm.

He uses fertilizer according to soil tests. He applies a farm plan to his operation and has established a number of drainage practices.

135 Acres
Gerald Krueger, 31, has been farming for seven years. He has 80 acres, rents an additional 85, with a total of 135 acres in cropland.

He started with 30 cows, he now has 27, and butterfat has increased from 330 to 376 pounds.

Krueger uses fertilizer and lime according to a soil testing plan.

John Krueger, 32, has been farming for six years. He is a dairy farmer with 147 acres, of which 127 are in cropland.

Bigger Herd
He enlarged his herd from 11 to 24 cows and their butterfat average has gone from 333 to 387 pounds.

Krueger is on a continuous soil testing program and fertilizes accordingly.

This year the Jaycees have project co-sponsors, the Wisconsin Gas Co. and City Gas Service. The companies will pay the expenses of the OYF winner and his wife to the state Jaycee convention in Appleton Feb. 14 and 15. The companies also paid the expenses involved in advertising, judging, refreshments for the smoker to announce the finalists, and expenses for the five finalists and their wives at the Jaycee Distinguished Service award banquet.

Sabin Vaccine Will Be Given At Nine Locations in County March 8, April 9 by Society

Outagamie will join the list of other Wisconsin counties administering oral polio vaccine when clinics are held at nine locations March 8 and April 19.

The program will be undertaken by the Outagamie County Medical Society, which intends to purchase the Sabin vaccine, according to Dr. Jack G. Anderson, society president.

Mass oral vaccination clinics have been held in several counties after being delayed in 1963 on the advice of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Four clinics will be in Appleton, and the other five elsewhere in the county. Specific sites will be announced soon by Dr. George Behnke, Kaukauna, general chairman for the program.

Vaccine for 75,000

Dr. Lloyd Williams, Appleton, consultant for communicable disease, will serve as medical director of the clinic project, expected to provide vaccine for an estimated 75,000 county residents.

Children and adults will be urged by the medical society to take the Sabin vaccine. The mass vaccination program has the approval of the U. S. Surgeon General's office, Wisconsin Medical Society and the State Board of Health.

Because dates for administering three doses of oral vaccine fall on Sundays, slogan for the project will be "Sabin-on-Sunday." Clinics will be open during the day only. Hours will be announced.

It has been estimated 800 to 1,000 persons can be vaccinated per hour. Recently, about 200,000 persons attended clinics in Dane County.

Participating Doctors

Most doctors in the county will participate in conducting the clinics.

First dose of type I vaccine will be dispensed March 8. Five weeks later, April 19, doses of types II and III will be administered.

The medical society will underwrite the purchase of vaccine from a drug company, and the charge to the public will be 25 cents for the first clinic and 25 cents for the second, a total of 50 cents for the three doses.

Oral vaccine will be administered on cube sugar, or with distilled water. Doctors claim there has been no reaction to oral vaccine.

Minimum Age

Children must be at least two months old to receive oral vaccine.

Planning for the countywide clinic has been underway for several months.

"I think the oral vaccine is very safe and it is important that as many people as possible get vaccinated against polio," Dr. Marvin S. Kagen, Appleton health commissioner, said today. He said the health department would cooperate fully with the medical society.

Dr. Kagen advised those who have received Salk vaccine shots should consider a dose of the oral vaccine as a booster and for increased immunity.

Action Urged To Increase Farm Income

Tax Cut Termed Futile Without Aid for Agriculture

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Agricultural Advisory Commission says tax reduction to help spur economic growth will fail unless the government acts to improve farm income.

The 25-member commission made this declaration after two days of closed meetings on price, income and surplus supply problems now confronting producers of wheat, cotton and dairy products.

The commission advises the White House and the secretary of agriculture on farm policies and programs. The chairman is Harry B. Caldwell, of Greensboro, N.C., long a leader in the National Grange.

Drop Predicted
The commission concluded that failure of Congress to enact a new wheat stabilization program would have repercussions in incomes throughout agriculture. It said that the income of farmers as a whole could be expected to drop from 19 to 43 per cent within five years without a program that would increase returns from wheat and stabilize supplies.

This loss of income in rural America, the commission said, would be felt through the economy by those who produce goods and provide services for rural residents. Losses in production and labor resulting from lower rural spending power, it said, could offset gains in purchases that would come from those who save on taxes.

Rural Traffic Up 5 Per Cent, State Survey Shows

MADISON — A 5 per cent rise in the traffic on the rural highways of Wisconsin was recorded by the state highway department at 35 widely dispersed automatic records last year over 1962, the department said Friday.

The gain is about typical of the pattern established in recent years. Accuracy of the projections is probably greater today because the department has maintained more recorders in service on the principal state, federal and county roads carrying the heaviest traffic loads.

Jehovah's Witnesses Attend Conference

The three-day gathering of Jehovah's Witnesses at Green Bay was attended by 50 members of the Appleton congregation.

During Sunday afternoon's discourse, Eugene R. Brandt, district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses' congregations in a four-state area, said, "The Bible is in full harmony with proved science. That is, it does not conflict with facts which constitute proved science, but it does conflict with theories which constitute science so-called."

He continued by saying that the Bible triumphs when it is put to the test of facts on four basic issues for which there are a variety of theories. They are the origin of life, the origin of man, the solution to life's problems and what the future holds.

Fifteen persons were baptised by immersion.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

(AP Newsfeatures)

Every Week the Rev. Allen Clark's ministry reaches 20,000 people, half way around the world. His "ministry by mail," known as Home Prayers, is broadcast to Eskimos by a missionary at Frobisher Bay, Canada, and read by G. I.s in Korea. It is used in hospitals and churches for their patients and shut-ins.

It began in 1927 when Mr. Clark had a circuit of three parishes near Hanover, N.H. The bitter New England winters made it impossible for him to hold services in a small chapel back in the hills. He hit upon an idea of sending the three families of the chapel a mimeographed home service each week during the worst winter months. The idea caught on and others wanted it, and by 1920 it was being printed instead of mimeographed.

By 1958 its circulation had grown so large that Mr. Clark either had to resign from parish work or give up Home Prayers. He chose to stay with Home Prayers, and it was incorporated as a non-profit enterprise with an interdenominational board of trustees.

Home Prayers consists of an opening prayer, a Bible reading, a 450-word sermon and a closing prayer. There is no charge.

"Twice a year we 'pass the plate' by mail," says Mr. Clark. "If God wants Home Prayers to continue, He will provide the money."

Retired Auto Executive Collects Unique Bibles

CHELSEA, Mich. (AP)—The suspect that somewhere about then I got interested in Bibles." He says his collection is believed to be the largest and most valuable private collection in the United States.

Church Protested
Donaldson says that in the early years of printing, the Roman Catholic Church was against translating the Bible from Latin to English. When the church realized it could not stop the trend it decided to issue its own English translation and in 1582 it issued the New Testament and in 1609-10 the Old Testament.

The first dated Bible appeared in 1462. Donaldson has a 1466. He has manuscript Bibles dating back to 1225; tiny Bibles that can be held in the palm of the hand; giant Bibles that are barely liftable; Bibles bound in silver and sprinkled with jewels, and Bibles bound in embroidered cloth.

One of Donaldson's manuscript Bibles, written in Latin by an apparently disgruntled monk, has at its end a penned in phrase, which loosely translated, reads: "The book finished, let us break the bones of the boss!"

"I don't really recall how I got interested in Bible collecting," Donaldson says, "but I used to teach a Sunday School class about 35 years ago, and I group has upset other African nations.

Would Favor Peking

Informants said there are indications that most of the 12 French-speaking African countries in the Afro-Malagasy union will refrain from following Paris. If they swing in the other direction, however, their U.N. votes could make a decisive change in favor of Peking.

There are indications here that French President Charles de Gaulle has advised the African states he does not expect them to follow France's example.

According to this information, De Gaulle has indicated France is a strong enough power to deal with the Chinese Communists, but the former French colonies are not.

Nationalist China has been advised by the United States to sit tight and not break diplomatic relations with Paris. It is doubtful, however, that President Chiang Kai-shek will follow this counsel.

Menominee Bond Hearing Planned

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The formal hearing required by law on the rules issued by the State Department of Public Welfare governing state loans on bonds of Menominee Enterprises, Inc., will be held here Feb. 11.

The hearing is a formality because the board acted under an emergency rule, and the lending program is now in operation. It could give an opportunity to Indians or their local officials to testify on the plan which went through the legislature in November without committee hearings.

'Tombstone Epitaph' Published, 2 Others Killed in Plane Crash

BENSON, Ariz. (AP) — The publisher of one of the Southwest's legendary weeklies and two other prominent Arizonans died in the crash of a light airplane.

The bodies of Clayton Smith, 48, publisher of the Tombstone Epitaph, and educators T. C. Johnston, 44, and Donald Ensign, 49, were recovered Friday. Their Piper Tri-Pacer went down in the rugged southeastern Arizona mountain country about eight miles southwest of Benson.

Red Vietnamese Say British Participating In Guerilla Warfare

TOKYO (AP) — Communist North Viet Nam has accused Britain of participating in the war against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam, Radio Peking reported.

A Peking broadcast said Friday Communist Viet Nam issued its protest in a statement after Wing Cmdr. William Lee of the Royal Air Force was presumably killed when U. S. escort helicopter was shot down by Viet Cong gunfire at the mouth of the Mekong River Jan. 18.

'Arm-Twisting' Tactics by Johnson Affects Tax Code

WASHINGTON (AP) — During the lunch hour Thursday, Lyndon B. Johnson put in two of the busiest hours in his two months as President.

What catapulted Johnson into action was word from Capitol Hill that the Senate Finance Committee had voted at its morning session to repeal $455 million worth of federal excise taxes.

The President was not pleased, and soon his displeasure was burning the telephone wires.

No Need for Phone

A Democratic committee member who received one of the calls said Johnson really didn't need the telephone—"If he had opened the window of his office, I could have heard him."

Excise tax repeals are popular because millions long have regarded the levies as unnecessary nuisances. Chiefly affected are cosmetics, jewelry including watches, handbags and wallets, luggage and furs.

Johnson was convinced that including such provisions in the $11.5-billion tax cut bill could jeopardize its chances of early passage because of the further loss in revenue.

The repeal amendments had been adopted by votes ranging from 9 to 13 to 0. The President didn't have much time to reverse these because the committee was scheduled to take its final action on the bill that afternoon.

Negro Pickets Stage Protest For U.N. Group

ATLANTA (AP)—Negro pickets protesting segregation greeted members of a United Nations group dealing with racial discrimination during its first visit to the deep South.

The marchers carried signs reading "Atlanta Needs U.N. Help," and "Atlanta-Gateway to the Segregated South" and they sang "freedom songs" in the rain after the visitors arrived Friday night.

The picketing by the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee occurred at the airport and again outside the motel where the group was staying. No incidents were reported.

But the demonstration gave U.N. members from 10 countries—the Soviet Union included—a first-hand glimpse of racial problems at the beginning of their two-day tour.

Baker Won't Be Interviewed

Ex-Beauty Queen Who Was Secretary Called as Witness

WASHINGTON (AP) — The special counsel for the Senate Rules Committee's probe into the business affairs of Robert G. Baker says he has been unsuccessful in trying to interview the former Senate aide.

"You can't interview a man who won't be interviewed," counsel L. P. McLendon told newsmen.

But he added that Carole Tyler, a former beauty contest winner and Baker's secretary, would be called later as a witness.

Baker, 35, quit under fire Oct. 7 as secretary of the Senate's Democrats. The committee is seeking to determine if he or any other Senate employees engaged in any improper employment or conflict of interest.

Johnson's Stereo

Earlier witnesses testified that Baker talked an insurance salesman into giving President Johnson a $500 stereo set in 1967.

Most of Friday's hearing was devoted to the fancy $28,800 town house that Baker turned over to Miss Tyler and one of two other girls.

C. W. Taylor, president of the cooperative housing development which built the 4-bedroom, 2-bath house in Washington's southeast area, says he has been trying unsuccessfully to sell it.

The rules of the development require the owner to live in it, and Baker lives with his family in an expensive home in the northwest area.

Chief Problem

The chief problem in selling it seems to be the French wallpaper and lavender wall-to-wall carpeting which Baker installed.

Taylor said Baker became quite upset when informed he would have to sell the house. He said Baker phoned him Nov. 21 and "launched into this great outpouring in defense of himself and the young ladies."

Living in the house along with Miss Tyler was Mary Alice Martin, a former secretary for Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla. Previous testimony showed that Smathers let Baker in on a profitable Florida land investment venture several years ago. Miss Tyler is still living there.

Your Problems

Neighbor Not Qualified to Diagnose Son's Sore Throat

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our nine-year-old son has been out of school 32 days this semester because of severe colds and sore throats. Our family doctor has advised us to have the boy's tonsils removed during Spring vacation.

My next door neighbor says this doctor is an old-fashioned dodo who is practicing medieval medicine. She claims the doctors today do not yank out tonsils just because kids have colds and sore throats.

My husband and I have had some arguments about this. He seems to pay entirely too much attention to what this neighbor says, which irritates me.

What is your opinion? Should we have the boy's tonsils removed or not? — Question Mark

Dear Mark: I am not a doctor. And even if I were I would not presume to diagnose your son's case through the mail.

It's true that fewer tonsillectomies are performed today than 25 years ago. But each case must be determined by individual diagnosis. Since you are undecided, get two other medical opinions and leave your neighbor out of it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My friend who is 18 has been dating a boy, 16. I told her she was robbing the cradle. She told me to mind my own business.

What do you think?

— Lover of Reason.

Dear Lover: I think she is indeed robbing the cradle and that you should mind your own business.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last year my mother passed away. My older sister promised Mom that she would make a home for me until I got married. I am 18 and will graduate from high school in February. My sister is good to me and I

Higher Degree Programs Okayed

MADISON (AP) — New graduate programs for Oshkosh and Platteville state colleges and additional undergraduate majors at Whitewater and Stevens Point were approved Friday by the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

In the first graduate offerings at state colleges, Platteville was authorized to begin a master's degree program in teaching industrial education while Oshkosh received approval for a program in educational guidance.

Whitewater was authorized to begin majors in French, German and Spanish. A major in American civilization was approved for Stevens Point.

Fisher Wants to Settle Divorce Before Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Eddie Fisher says he hopes to settle divorce arrangements with Elizabeth Taylor before he leaves for the Olympic Games on Monday.

Fisher flew here Friday from Hollywood and blasted a statement issued by Miss Taylor's lawyers that he would consent to a divorce for $1 million — $750,000 tax free and the use of $250,000 for 10 years.

Former Policeman Staging Sit-in at Internal Revenue

DETROIT (AP) — A former policeman observed his 56th birthday Friday by staging a solo sit-in at the Detroit office of the Internal Revenue Service. James Clement, a Detroit truck driver, said he was protesting because the government claimed he owed $419 in taxes and began making deductions from his paycheck.

Clement, who vowed to resume his sit-in Monday, said: "I don't owe this government anything. It owes me."

Postage Stamp Honors Naturalist

MADISON (AP) — The issuance of a commemorative postage stamp honoring naturalist John Muir will be marked in ceremonies at the University of Wisconsin Feb. 8, when the design of the stamp will be unveiled. Muir, a native of Scotland, was graduated from the university in 1864. Postmaster General John A. Gronoski will be the speaker at the ceremony, at which a wooded area on the campus will be dedicated as John Muir Park.

That's Why He's Against Fireworks

PIERRE, S.D. (AP) — A fireworks bill went through with a bang in the South Dakota House of Representatives Friday.

Rep. Dan Stuelpnagel was explaining the measure, which tightens up regulations, when someone set off a firecracker just outside the House chamber.

"I knew that was coming," he quipped. "That's one of the fireworks that will be banned under the law." The measure passed 75-0.

Airlift From Panama Resumed by Air Force

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The Air Force has resumed its airlift of nearly 3,000 American dependents from Panama, bringing more than 200 persons to Charleston and to Patrick Air Force Base in Florida Friday.

More than 1,100 persons were flown from Panama last week in the wake of riots in the U.S.-controlled Canal Zone.

have a nice room. The trouble is my sister's husband. He is vulgar and coarse and I hate the sight of him. He has repulsive table manners and I can't stand the way he pushes my sister around. I don't know how a lovely, refined girl like my sister could have married this miserable, crude man.

I've told my sister how I feel and she says, "He's not perfect but he's my husband and I intend to make the best of it."

The man who manages the drug store where I work weekends would marry me in a minute if I said yes. He is 30 years old, a widower and has two small children. He would treat me well and give me a good home.

No, I don't love him but nobody else is breaking down my door. What should I do?

— Swan Lake

Dear Swan: If you marry a man you don't love just to get away from an unhappy home you will make an even happier home for yourself.

So long as you live under your sister's roof you should refrain from making any critical comments about her husband. This is her problem and she is doing her best to cope with it. You don't help when you point out his unattractive qualities — of which she is surely aware.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the Post-Crescent, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Here are some ideas for nylon net or mesh. (This is bought at your dime or department store in the piece-goods department or mail order house for less than 40 cents a yard and is 72 inches wide.)

This is the greatest thing when used in the kitchen for straining liquids, soups, vegetables, fats, etc.

I strain all liquids from my vegetables and use the liquid to moisten my dog's dinner. The dog really enjoys the meals which are flavored this way. I either place a piece of nylon net in my colander, or I cover a coffee tin with it, loosely, (and fasten with a rubber band) and strain the juice into the tin.

Nylon net is wonderful as a sewing aid in the place of expensive interfacing and will take the place of horsehair in a hem or collar as long as the material is not too sheer.

Nylon net can be used to cover a mat for a picture, or to cover cardboard for a modern-type frame.

Nylon net can be used to tie separate vegetables into bundles and they can be cooked in the same pot of water (cauliflower cooked in a net-lined pan can be lifted out without breaking!) etc.

Herbes, tied into bundles can be added or removed during cooking.

I keep a piece of nylon net with my floor cleaning equipment to pick up the dirt in the hard-to-get-at corners and spots! I then follow up with the usual sponge, etc.

Old, runny nylon stockings are also useful. So don't throw them away. They make wonderful hair nets, when slit lengthwise, and tied turban style around your head! I set my hair in rollers two hours before retiring, and then as I cannot sleep become rancid, wash the can with rollers! I remove the rollers and insert a bobby pin in the curl. I then tie a nylon stocking over it all.

In the morning I brush the curls into a set and it stays that

Players Toss Hand Like Ball

Some hands are tossed back and forth like a tennis ball: declarer keeps giving the hand away, and the defenders keep throwing it back to him. In hands of this kind, the last mistake is the one that counts.

West opened the ten of diamonds, dummy played low, and East played the deuce to discourage a continuation. West continued with a low club, and dummy's jack lost to the king. East took the ace of diamonds and returned a trump.

South won with the ace of spades and led a heart, whereupon West stepped up with the ace of hearts to take the setting trick. West could have defeated the contract pretty surely by opening a club, but nobody can quarrel with his opening lead of the ten of diamonds. After that lead there were at least three major mistakes.

Should Cover

South should cover the ten of diamonds with dummy's king to force East into the lead. If East returns a trump, South can lead a heart to develop two heart tricks in dummy. South plans to discard a club on one of dummy's hearts, thus assuring the contract.

When South failed to cover the ten of diamonds, West quite properly shifted to a club. Now South had to lose a club trick. East could take his club, cash the ace of diamonds, and return a heart. East's spade return was a second major mistake.

South should win the spade return, ruff a diamond in dummy, and lead out all of the trumps. When the last trump is led, dummy has three clubs and the king of hearts. West has the ace of hearts and three clubs — and must discard ahead of dummy. Anything West discards allows dummy to take the rest of the tricks.

Declarer made the last mistake by leading a heart and allowing the opponents to take the setting trick. It was a just result: declarer had made two major mistakes, and the defenders had made only one.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: S 6, H J 6 2, D A Q J 8 7 2, C K 8 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two diamonds. You expect to bid game in hearts if partner can rebid the suit. Otherwise you will try for game in diamonds or notrump.

To Your Good Health

Growing Pains May Be Muscle Spasms

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. aside a time for a glass of milk and a cookie, or encourage a youngster (if he is so disposed) to read or do his homework or play quiet games. I'm all for plenty of exercise for youngsters, but they need some relaxation, too.

Where activity does not seem to account for pains in legs or feet, then it's time to look for some deeper cause. By far the most likely is some defect in the arch or elsewhere in the foot. Incorrectly fitted shoes, of course, can also force the child into a faulty gait or posture.

Corrective shoes, arch supports or other measures often are used in such cases. Naturally the earlier such defects are recognized, the easier it is to correct them before deformity of the foot becomes permanent. (If there is pain in the groin and in the joints as well as in the muscles, then be on the alert for something more serious. I have rheumatic fever in mind.)

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the cause of lungus and why can't one be cured of it? I have it on my finger right by the nail. I took fungus pills and other treatments but still have it. — MRS. O.R.

Fungus, like germs, yeasts, protozoans and other microscopic forms of life, are all around us. We fight off most of them — but now and again we pick up an infection. The griseful vin - type drugs have been agreeably effective in conquering some kind of fungus infection but will not combat others. It may be necessary to remove a nail surgically to clear up a chronically infected area.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son has purchased a house where the former owner died of cancer. Now he is upset because someone told him that this terrible disease is catching. He is afraid that the germs still exist in the house. — MRS. B.R.

But cancer isn't caused by germs! The "someone" got things all mixed up. Cancer isn't contagious.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents.

Dr. Molner is happy to respond to readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Our Inelegant Democrats

In politics, said the great English politician Disraeli, nothing is contemptible. But he didn't know the restive, suspicious and insecure men who command the Democratic party of Wisconsin in this year when it must be obvious to them that they are confronting a stronger Republican challenge and are required to solicit votes on a statehouse record that is less than eloquently persuasive.

Chairman Hanson of the party has put out a publicity release which in effect calls Governor Reynolds, the titular leader of the state party, a ward-healing politician. Senator Nelson, observing Mr. Reynolds and Patrick Lucey 900 miles away proving their dominance of the state party machinery, is muttering angrily about running against Mr. Lucey in the state convention for the position of Democratic national committeeman. Mr. Hanson puts out another release in which he belligerently announced that he doesn't intend to quit, although he is aware that with a majority of his own committee unwilling to follow him on major policy and organization questions, he has been demoted to a kind of junior office manager at the party headquarters.

An attempt to mend the dispute was made when Governor Reynolds called upon Senator Nelson in Washington, but both were mum after the meeting and the impression is that nothing was accomplished.

The governor and Mr. Lucey, as perhaps befits the victors in this uproariously improbable spectacle, are saying nothing. Whatever the merit of this schismatic situation, it is clear that theirs is the sensible course and one befitting the practical business of running the party and preparing a campaign.

All of this must be balm to the spirits of our vigilant Republican managers, who have learned in the last three elections that the Democrats have a capacity for collecting votes when they are working in harness.

On the face of it, the occasion for this enervating and undignified quarrel was the election of Robert Bittner, a Green Bay friend and associate of Mr. Reynolds, as party treasurer over the choice of Senator Nelson.

But it is pretty obvious that the provocation here was more nominal than real, and that this was merely the excuse for a public brawl that would inevitably have broken out on some other cause, sooner or later. On balance, we are inclined to believe that the governor has the better of it in this argument. He must run for reelection this year and is deeply interested in putting around him in the party organization men in whom he has confidence. Senator Nelson, whose friend Mr. Hanson was installed as chairman some months ago, has political security for four more years. Moreover, Mr. Hanson has pretty well proved during the week that his regard for the governor, as the prospective leader of the party ticket, is lukewarm.

If there was any doubt about these considerations, they were underlined when Senator William Proxmire chose sides. He doesn't like such choices. But when he was forced to line up with one faction or the other, the senator ignored his colleague in Washington and decided that his own best interest would be served by joining the Reynolds-Lucey axis.

A New Fallacy in Support of Medicare

In testifying before the House Ways and Means Committee in favor of the Administration-backed plan of medical care through Social Security, Dr. Benjamin Spock said that it would help youngsters as well as the elderly and seriously ill. Families that must spend large amounts upon unexpected illness often then are unable to provide their children with higher educational opportunities, according to the baby specialist.

But we must begin to wonder just how high tax deductions from income will go if more and more Americans must turn to government programs for all sorts of things they formerly tried to take care of themselves.

Is it necessarily dreadful if healthy young people find they must work a little harder to provide for those who are old and who have in the past worked quite hard for them? The costs of education are high and will certainly go higher in the inflationary spiral and as competition for higher education becomes tougher. But there are scholarships and loans available. And some educators are beginning to feel that scholarships based entirely on need tend to discriminate against the family which has felt the importance of a higher education enough to set aside funds for it.

Other testimony on the medical aid plan indicates that there are no sound and solid statistics to show just how much Medicare will cost in the future. Advocates of the Social Security deductions at first said they would amount to about 25 cents per week per worker. But the matter of rising hospital costs was overlooked because, as one expert said, "we just weren't smart enough at the start." The difference in hospital costs since the project was first broached and 1965 has already brought the 25 cents per week up to 28 cents per week or $13 a year to $14.56.

Chairman Mills points out that hospital costs have been rising the last few years more than twice as fast as have wages. While this makes the blow of serious illness even more stunning to any family, it doesn't help the proposal of deducting costs through Social Security either. In fact, if the trend continues, the cost of hospital costs in fifty years would be $1,178 per day while the average daily wage would be only $88! This is obviously impossible but it is not likely that hospital costs will level off very much in the next few years.

Social Security deductions, which began at 2 per cent, are now at 7 1/2 per cent. They are scheduled to climb to 9 1/2 per cent by 1968 so as to take care of the rising costs of disability and retirement programs. And every time Congress has sought to reduce the impact upon the low wage earner by raising the base for deductions, it has also widened coverage.

We think American families should have the opportunity to decide for themselves whether they should save their money for college opportunities or for big medical expenses. As Dr. Spock well recognizes, one of the biggest problems in raising children is teaching them responsibility for their actions. And yet the government more and more is taking away that responsibility.

Delinquency Not Economic Problem

A Boston psychiatrist who is the director of a Center for Children and Family Study says that youngsters of well-to-do parents become juvenile delinquents for the very same reasons that poor children do. He has found that the family patterns of suburbia's youngsters gone wrong parallel those of their tenement counterparts. In a strained family situation, the teenager who has everything reacts exactly like the one who has nothing, and probably would be a delinquent wherever he lived.

The perennially-absent, alcoholic slum father affects his family the same way as the equally absent, career-occupied suburban father. The slum mother, neglecting her family for a round of boy friends, finds her opposite in the middle class matron whose community and social activities leave her little time for her children. The disruptive round of foster homes which are often the fate of the slum delinquent, matches the equally-disruptive cycle of nurses, governesses and private schools that can be inflicted on children of the well-to-do. And in both environments parents show disrespect for law and authority: petty crime in the slums, cheating on tax returns in the suburbs.

In fact, says Dr. Irving Kaufman, affluence may even work a worse hardship on the suburban delinquent. Money and influence may keep him out of the courts, sometimes the only savior of young criminals.

Soldiers Home, Enlistments Noted

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post-Crescent for Jan. 23, 1864.

Capt. Theodore Conkey, Wisconsin 3rd Cavalry, started from this city for Madison on Tuesday with 107 bold soldier boys, all recruited by the gallant captain since his recent arrival home.

We understand other recruits will join his band at Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and other towns en route to Madison.

All his men are physically sound and will be a terror to the secesh. Much credit is due Capt. C. for the celerity with which he has enlisted these men.

Mr. Gilbert of the Gilbert House of this city has leased the Angier House at New London and has removed to that place. Dan Fitzpatrick, proprietor of the latter house, has enlisted with Capt. Conkey.

Lt. Col. Pomeroy of the 1st Cavalry, Capt. J. H. Marston and Pvt. Eggleston and Woodiana, Co. E., 6th Wisconsin Volunteers, have all arrived home. Each and all look robust and hearty. Capt. Marston's men have principally re-enlisted for three years as veterans. Capt. Wood, 32d Wisconsin Volunteers, started for his regiment on Monday.

Is the tiny Panama Canal Zone to become an American Suez and Algeria wrapped in one?

The explosive pinpoint in Latin America contains some of the ingredients of the two African crises that toppled a British government in 1956 and destroyed a French republic in 1958.

Like the Suez Canal before 1956, the Panama Canal is a strategic waterway located in a weak nation but operated and protected by a major foreign power in an atmosphere highly charged with nationalism.

The Suez Canal, located in Egypt, was run by a private company in which the most important stockholder was the British government. Until 1956, British troops were stationed in Suez.

As soon as the last British troops evacuated their Suez bases under a negotiated agreement, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser found an excuse to nationalize the canal.

Zonians Are Restless
The move helped to bring on the brief Suez War of November, 1956, at the conclusion of which British Prime Minister Anthony Eden resigned and was replaced by Harold Macmillan.

Conservative Party Insurance Goldwater Will be Nominated

Editor, Post-Crescent:

After the Conservative Party of Wisconsin made known its intentions of establishing a ballot position for Goldwater on a third party ticket, we have had several telephone calls asking the same general question, "Will this action

Mrs. Robert Olen, Mrs. Roy Barker, Mrs. Robert Koehler, and Mrs. Walton Johnson, Co-directors of the play were Mrs. Walter Sievers and Mrs. James Driessen.

10 YEARS AGO

Saturday, Jan. 23, 1954.

Werner Witte, vice principal at Appleton High School, and Neil Lunenschloss, Roosevelt Junior High School principal, were named chairman of the general committee planning the Appleton meeting of the Northeastern Wisconsin Education Association. Among the committee chairmen assisting were Herbert Simon, Ruth Parkinson, Jack Notebaart, Jack Burroughs, Lawrence Witzke, Francis Sundberg, Ken Peterson, Robert Kenney, Harold Briesse, John Harkins, Francis Conrad, Ray Montieth and Kenneth Edge.

Joseph Wittmann Jr. was elected president of the newly organized young peoples' club at Darboy. Delia Dietzen was named vice president, Lois Sprangers, secretary, and Margie Schrieber, treasurer.

Robert Krueger, who presented Alfred Hitchcock's "Rope," was first place winner in the Appleton High School serious declamatory recital. Krueger's name was to be engraved on the school's Hall of Fame.

The Panama Canal is operated by the Panama Canal Company, owned by the United States government. A U. S. Army engineer traditionally is company president. About 10,000 American troops are stationed in the zone.

The 648-square-mile zone, which splits the Republic of Panama in two, is not owned by the U. S. government but is leased "in perpetuity" which, on the face of it, differs little from outright ownership.

Thus, a treaty, signed 60 years ago before imperialism became a dirty word, has become anathema to Panamanians who have been imbued with the nationalism that has swept underdeveloped nations since World War II.

The Eisenhower Administration in 1960 moved to make the treaty more palatable by allowing the Panamanian flag to be flown in the Canal Zone as evidence of Panama's titular sovereignty over the area.

But this served only to anger American residents of the zone — who are known as "Zonians" — many of whom, despite their American citizenship, were born in the Canal Zone and know no other home.

It was a dispute between American and Panamanian students over the display of flags that touched off the violence two weeks ago in which 20 persons were killed including three Americans.

Reds Are Watching

The Zonians bear a certain resemblance to the "pieds noirs," the Algerians of French descent who held up for so long any settlement of the Algerian rebellion against France.

The Algerian stalemate eventually brought down the Fourth French Republic and installed in power Gen. Charles de Gaulle as president of the Fifth Republic.

One of the complaints by Moslem Algerians against the pied noirs was that they held the best land and the best jobs in a country the Moslems firmly believed to be theirs.

At the height of the Panama disturbances, the Panama government radio complained about the Zonians: "They have been there so long they believe they own our land. But this is not true. It belongs to us."

Panamanians also resent the fact — remedied somewhat in recent years — that the 14,000 Panamanians who work in the zone are paid on a lower wage scale than the Americans.

Add to this a third ingredient that was also present in Suez and Algeria: World communism is watching closely. And this time it's only about 800 miles away in Castro's Cuba.

not split the Republican Party?"

Our answer to this is always the same. "No! Certainly not." If the Republican Party assumes its responsibility of representing the conservative (free enterprise) voters of this state and nation by nominating Goldwater, the Conservative Party will lend its complete support and back the Republican ticket. The Republican Party has always claimed to represent the conservative voter. If this is indeed a fact, the Republicans need not fear because there will be then no need of a third party.

If, on the other hand, the Republican Party does not live up to its responsibility and abandons its conservative principles to appease party liberals and other "welfare staters," then a Conservative Party ballot position shall be established naming Goldwater as its candidate. One way or another, the voters are going to be given a definite choice between conservatism — meaning equal opportunity — or liberalism which stands for government control over the lives of the people.

If a third party ballot position becomes necessary with Goldwater as the candidate,

Thieves Steal Judge's Switchblade Knife

MIAMI (AP) — Judge Ben Sheppard of Juvenile Court reported thieves stole his switchblade knife.

He explained the knife had been taken from a juvenile and kept in his office.

the Conservative Party could count on at least 5 per cent to 10 per cent of the total vote cast. Small as it is, this "swing vote" constitutes the "balance of power" and is sufficient to defeat the Republican Party.

The choice belongs to the Republican Party. Either it must divest itself of liberal control and return to conservative principles or cease to exist as a major political force in this country.

This is political insurance! The only force which politicians can understand is loss of votes at the ballot box.

In the event that the liberally controlled Republican Party does not nominate Goldwater in convention, the Conservative Party shall then circulate nomination papers starting the last week in July. Since the Republican Convention precedes this, it is essential that we prove now that we have the necessary sympathy and support to get the required number of names to satisfy legal requirements next July. For this reason we are now circulating "Notice" forms to obtain the necessary number of signatures. These forms may be obtained by writing to the Conservative Party at Box 82 in Brookfield, Wisconsin.

The question we must ask ourselves is, Shall we take the Republican Party at their word once again or shall we have "political insurance"?

Kennedy's Death Did Not Put End to Lucey Era in State Politics

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — There is a tendency to emphasize the drama of conflict and personal rivalry in communicating political party developments. Thus the dispatches lately have told with lively descriptive adjectives of the division in the state Democratic committee as disclosed in the victory of the Reynolds-Lucey-Proxmire axis over the Nelson-Hanson alliance in certain internal elections and arrangements.

To the anxious Republican at the start of a campaign year, there may be some encouragement in such evidence of factional division among his Democratic foes.

To the loyal Democrat, conversely, there may be some worry occasioned by these goings-on, some wondering whether it may weaken the party in a campaign season that will require all of its strength and spirit.

Chances are that both reactions can be exaggerated. It would be a poor party, indeed, they did not show some jealousy and rivalry among the commanders, and some competition for control. The stout fighting for the control of the machinery of a party may be a sign, indeed, of its vigorous health. It is a measure of the value of the party as an instrument for winning and holding power, its credit rating, so to speak.

In the current Democratic squabbling, it is important to remember that the dispute has no relation to ideology. It is not issues that divide the factions, but personalities and rival ambitions and claims to rank and prestige. Republicans have had the same internal difficulties — although with one important difference. They close their meetings, as they have every right to do, and thus all of the internal fussing is not always made public.

Indeed, the time a couple of years ago when competition for Republican organization leadership place had diminished to the point of extinction coincided with the period of the party's lowest morale. Lately there has been a resumption of the competitive spirit within the organization, and it is a good thing for the institution.

But there remain personal animosities and jealousies and resentments as keen among the leading Republican organization politicians as among the Democrats. The difference relates largely to the ease with which publicity follows the Democratic family rows.

Nobody should have been surprised that Gov. Reynolds and Pat Lucey were able to demonstrate their control of the state committee, although by only a slight handful of votes, at the last session. Nor should anybody have been surprised that the careful Sen. Proxmire, caught in the middle, allied himself with the winning side.

Sen. Nelson and Louis Hanson, their antagonists, were distant and relatively powerless, on the one hand, and inexperienced and not yet widely known, on the other. Chairman Hanson appeared honestly startled when there were appeals from his rulings at the spirited committee meeting. He said he couldn't understand how the chair could be overruled. He now knows. It is done with a majority of the votes.

Gov. Reynolds holds a powerful office. He can grant favors, or deny them, to the degree that is quite beyond the power of a U. S. senator, even such a popular senator as Gaylord Nelson. And in Pat Lucey the Democrats have one of the castiest of the professionals who has now shown that whatever he may have intimated earlier, he has no intention of retiring from the political battleground. Indeed, Lucey's artfully engineered election to the Democratic national committee coincided with his bid for the mastery of the Johnson presidential campaign organization. Quite obviously, he is refuting the assumption of some of his enemies that Mr. Kennedy's death ended the Lucey era in state politics.

War on Poverty Can Begin Right Here in Appleton

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Recently it is noted that some of our top political officials have taken an interest in the problems of the millions of impoverished people in our nation. If they are sincere in this effort it is good as there are many people in our land who are very poor.

True, some have no one but themselves to blame, but most of them are in this state through no fault of their own. We can send billions across the seas to nations that hate and despise us, but very little is done for our own needy.

One thing that has amused me is that almost without exception our presidents and other high officials in recent times are wealthy men. How can people born in such circumstances understand the position of our poor?

Look at the local picture. The people who head up our political parties are invariably big industrialists or business leaders. Has it ever occurred to them that there are hundreds of persons in this area who care little who runs for what office? I dare say a good share of us don't know who our alderman is, we are more concerned about how to pay the fuel bill or keep our family fed. Most of our political figures live in an ivory tower, out of touch with the masses.

Another problem that goes unsolved, despite the annual ballyhoo, is our handicapped citizens. The very firms that sponsor the "Employ the Handicapped" ads each fall are the first to turn down such a person when he comes to them for employment.

How do I know? There is a man in our city who has been nearly blind all his life. Because of this he has usually been unable to find work of any kind. And when he has, it has been at sub-standard wages.

Go to the employment services or the State Rehabilitation Services, you say? Well, this man has done all this and more. Where is he now? Still waiting. How do I know all this? That man is myself.

John Glenn quits the astronaut business to run for the Senate. He's a man who's always been highly motivated — to say nothing of having been highly rotated.

Business leaders are pleased with President Johnson. One executive is so delighted, he's putting all his Goldwater buttons in his wife's name.

Never mind the wheat. In light of the surgeon general's report, the item we should be pushing in our sales to the Communists is cigarettes.

Senator Harry Byrd speeds the tax-cut bill. The matter's urgent. If the people don't get some more money quickly, who's the government going to borrow from?

Panama and U.S. flags fly side by side, ending the trouble where it started. Moans a Republican: "Just LBJ's luck. He passes his first big test with flying colors."

In Ohio in November, voters may have a chance to vote against either Bob Taft, Jr., or astronaut John Glenn. And that, my friends, will be pretty deluxe name-dropping.

Gold Medal Hopefuls Near End of Training

U.S. Bobsled Pilot Sidelined After Fracturing Hand

BY HANS BENEDICT
INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Olympic gold medal aspirants entered their last weekend of training today hopeful of averting injuries that have taken a heavy toll at the Winter Games site.

The United States incurred a damaging setback Friday as John Handy, senior pilot of the bobsled squad, suffered a compound fracture of three fingers of his left hand. He will be lost to the Americans for the games which start next Wednesday.

At the same time, a new and unusual development threatened to bother both officials and athletes. Snow fell early Friday, touching off fears that fresh snow might ruin the meticulously hand-made runs. Weekend weather forecasts also called for heavy falls.

Because of a lack of snow, officials have had the downhill and slalom ski courses hand-packed with hundreds of tons of snow brought in by truck from remote areas. Skiers practicing on the runs Friday said the courses were excellent.

Freak Mishap
Bobsledder Handy was a victim of a freak accident. The 40-year-old Malone, N.Y., resident was returning from practice in an Austrian army truck when it hit a bump.

"I was bracing myself against a sled when the bob broke loose and banged against another bob," Handy explained. "It just happened that my fingers were right there, between the two sleds."

Coach Stan Benham said it will take at least a month for Handy's hand to heal.

Gene Kotlarek, who with John Balfanz will head the U.S. ski jumping team, was sidelined for at least two days with a twisted left ankle. Kotlarek, of Duluth, Minn., fell on the second of two practice jumps.

Fall Victim
A victim of another fall last Sunday, Kotlarek said, "I may be better off if I quit jumping."

Not all of the news was bad for the United States. Balfanz, who had been out of action with a cold, worked out Friday, jumping 249 and 254 feet. Balfanz, of Minneapolis, was outdistanced only by Dieter Neuen-dorf of West Germany who soared 256 feet.

Two other Americans resumed practice. Jean Sabert of Lakeview, Ore., the Alpine skier who is the United States' top hope for a gold medal, was back on skis after a bout with flu. Returning to the ice was Eddie Rudolph of Northbrook, Ill., speed skating star who had been sidelined with a severe head cold.

Dave Hicks of Duluth, Minn., another training casualty, was expected back on the ski jump today. He has recovered from back and shoulder injuries sustained Thursday.

44-33 halftime margin, however.

Although FVL could only hit 24 per cent of its shots in the third quarter, the Foxes outscored the visitors, 16-11, and the reserves salted the game away with a 26-point final frame.

Altogether Fox Lutheran shot 44 per cent on 36-88, including a 52 per cent first quarter (13-25), a 41 per cent second period (7-17), and a 48 per cent fourth frame (10-21).

Manitowoc Lutheran hit 14-39 in the first half for 35 per cent, and could register only eight out of 48 shots in the second half for a frigid 16 per cent. The two totals combined for 25 per cent, on 22-84.

Fox Valley Lutheran, going without the services of Bob Krueger, FVL's second-best rebounder and third highest point-producer, outrebounded the Lancers, 51-50.

Filling in for Krueger, who is still in the hospital with a concussion and back injury and may be out indefinitely, were Don Arps with 11, Barry Wierschke with 10, Wayne Koenig with eight and Larry Kahler with six.

Besides pacing scorers with 19 markers, FVL guard Lee Kiepeke totalled four assists. Runnerup for scoring honors, Wayne Koenig, had 16 points and four recoveries other than rebounds. Nine other FVL players scored.

A pair of 11-point performances by Steve Bialkowski and Larry Schneider paced the Lancers, who are now 1-10.

Ceiling Appears Unlimited For Pro Football TV Bids

NEW YORK (AP)—How high is up? What is the limit for television in its free-wheeling financial bidding for sports? After the new $28.2 million deal the Columbia Broadcasting System made with the National Football League, the ceiling appears to be unlimited.

The financial wizards had better take another look at the NFL. Talk about growth situations. In 1920 a franchise was worth $100 when the league was organized on the running board of a car in a Canton, Ohio, sales-room. Now a franchise commands $1 million a year in television revenue alone. Maybe that $6 million for the Detroit franchise was a bargain.

CBS outbid the American Broadcasting Co. and the National Broadcasting Co. in that order.

blister on your thumb. Virtual-Bonduel at White Lake. Bon-ly every professional has had this problem, but it should cause no great concern. Before long a small callous will form and this Menasha's Jim Meyer has 174.

Even Division

The $28.2 million covers the rights for all of the 98 NFL games in 1964 and 1965. That breaks down to $14.1 million a year. Under league policy, the 14 clubs divide the money evenly. That comes to about $1 million each. On a per game basis that is $143,000.

CBS also gets the right to televise any pre-season games without paying any additional fee if it wants to exercise its option by a certain date.

As the $28.2 million is more than three times the $9.3 million CBS paid for the two-year rights in 1962, there is speculation that the bidding for the championship game may go as high as $2.5 million.

The title game brought $926,000 last year under the contract with NBC which expired with that game. The title game bidding will be held in March.

The rival American Football League was an interested party for it is working on the last year of a five-year contract with ABC by which it gets $2,350,000. The network was on the phone with AFL office as soon as the NFL contract was announced. So was NBC, looking to the future.

Premontre '5' Stops Pennings

GREEN BAY — A third-quarter barrage by Premontre with Bob Du Pont rifling in 11 points broke up a tight ball game and gave the Cadets a 72-57 win over Abbot Pennings Friday night.

After trailing at the end of the first quarter by one point, 17-16, and leading by four at the half, Premontre's fast break and slick handling tripped the Squires.

Du Pont netted 16 points, but scoring honors went to Bill Feller with 20.

Top man for the Squires was 6-3 senior Mike Franken with 19 points. Runner-up was Tom Collins with 12.

Oshkosh Defeats West Quint, 68-64

Strasser Scores 22 Points as Indians Gain Fourth FRVC Win

BY DON CASTONIA

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Oshkosh survived a shaky second quarter and came back in the fourth period to edge Green Bay West High School, 68-64, in a typical Indian-Wildcat basketball thriller. Junior guard Mike Malone clinched the contest with three free throws in the final 1½ minutes of play. The Indians, who made 28 of 30 free throws against Kimberly Tuesday, again displayed deadly accuracy from the charity stripe, hitting 24 of 31 to more than offset a 6-field goal deficit from the floor. West made eight free throws but had only 12 attempts.

Both teams also displayed good shooting from the floor in a relatively slow-paced contest. Green Bay shot 52 per cent on 28 of 54 with a phenomenal 75 per cent (12 of 16) in the second period. The Indians hit 22 of 49 for 45 per cent. Jim Queoff, who led West with 18 points, made nine of 11 shots.

Short Hook Shot
Oshkosh took command of the game on a short hook shot by Myles Strasser to give the Indians the lead, 61-59, with 4:44 left. Strasser led all scorers with 22 points. Bob Wegener made a brace of free throws 30 seconds later, and Greg Wood added a basket to stretch Oshkosh's advantage to 6 points with 3:45 left.

Ron Zuelsdorf then scored five straight points for West to leave the Wildcats only 1 point down with two minutes remaining before Malone scored the clinching free throw.

Oshkosh took an early lead and held command early into the second quarter when West suddenly came to life. Trailing, 25-21, the Wildcats reeled off 14 straight points for a 10-point lead before Wegener scored a free throw for Oshkosh. The Wildcats added another basket for an 11-point edge, 37-26, before the fourth quarter.

Nee-nah had a 20-17 lead at the end of the first period and enjoyed a 38-29 advantage at halftime. At one point in the second period the Rockets had a 33-20 margin as the Ghosts failed to score a bucket in the first four minutes of the quarter.

Verstegen was high point man for the Ghosts with 21 on eight buckets and five free throws. Weigman added 12 and Andrews had 10 for the winners.

Kaukauna (17-12-15-19)—Bissek 2-1-2; Andrews 6-0-3; O'Brien 22-5; Wegman 3-4-4; Verstegen 8-5-3; Steinbach 2-5-3; 22-15-18.

Peralta Gains Decision Over Thornton

NEW YORK (AP)—"I beat him before and I will beat him again."

That was Argentine Gregoria Peralta's theme song for Wayne Thornton and he said it goes for light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano too.

The handsome, 28-year-old South American clinched a title fight with Pastrano Friday night by scoring his second successive decision victory over Thornton, of Fresno, Calif., in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner said today he will leave for Miami Beach Monday to negotiate with Pastrano and his manager, Angelo Dundee, for the promised championship contest in March or April.

Pastrano rooted for Thornton. He admitted the Californian would be easier for him. He's all even in three fights with Thornton but was drubbed in his only meeting with Peralta, in Miami Beach last September.

Although he bled from the nose from the second round on and from a wide cut — requiring seven stitches — over the left eye in the eighth round, the third-ranking contender was too clever and too fast with his hands for the 24-year-old, fifth-ranking Thornton. He beat the 11-5 underdog to the punch most of the time and landed more often. There were no knock-downs.

All three officials — referee Johnny Colan and judges Leo Birnbaum and Joe Armstrong — had it 6-3-1 in rounds for Peralta. The Associated Press scorecard had Peralta in front 7-3. A ringside poll showed a 14-2-1 landslide for Peralta.

fore the Indians fought back.

Green Bay held a 7-point halftime lead and still led by three going into the final eight minutes of play. Oshkosh finally caught the inexperienced Wildcats, who fielded a team of 5 juniors, on a rebound shot by Strasser and then went ahead for good on his hook.

Oshkosh is now 4-3 in Fox River Valley Conference play while Green Bay is 2-5. In the preliminary, West edged the Oshkosh junior varsity, 58-56.

New Lawrence Student Is Big Brain, Ace Card Player

1620 Computer Remembers Facts, Beats Professors at Blackjack

Lawrence College has enrolled the ideal student.

The student works 14 or more hours per day without complaint, can remember 40,000 facts at a time, is a whiz at addition and subtractions — 1,500 five-digit problems per second for instance — and in quiet moments plays an amiable but lethal game of blackjack.

This is no flesh and blood student, but a 1620 digital computer acquired for educational, research and administrative purposes.

Few educational institutions in this area have such a tool. The University of Wisconsin has many computer centers, but beyond that they are found only at Carroll College in Waukesha and The Institute of Paper Chemistry. A similar facility will be installed later this year at Oshkosh State college.

Wide Application
"A digital computer has a wider application over a larger number of academic disciplines than any other single instrument," a proposal accented by the Lawrence board of trustees said. "With it, the presentation and exposition of theory has almost unlimited possibility in a number of fields, while without it, whole areas of knowledge must be left blank for the student since the arithmetic computations necessary for insight and understanding are too long and complex to be worked out manually. Consequently, certain areas of inquiry, those which are assuming greater importance month by month, could not be considered in our curriculum."

"We look on the digital computer as an educational tool, not so much for the training of program technicians (although some students would learn this), but as a means of providing them with the theoretical knowledge necessary to conduct independent research both at Lawrence and later on in graduate study."

Office Use
Although several administrative divisions, including the registrar's office and business office, can put the computer to immediate practical use, it is considered primarily a research tool, and as such is controlled by a three-man faculty committee responsible to the dean of the college.

Dr. Andrew C. Berry, Colman professor of mathematics, is head of the committee; James D. Dana in economics and Dr. J. Bruce Brackenridge, physics, are the other members. Thomas Goldsmith, a senior from Upper Montclair, N. J., will serve as

Kaukauna Seeks Plumbing, Gas, Building Inspector

KAUKAUNA — The city is accepting applications for a man to fill the post of combined plumbing, gas and building inspector, salary for the office set at $4,800 per year.

Applicants must have a plumber's license and have knowledge of building construction. Applications must be made to Karl E. Marzahl city clerk, by Feb. 14. Personal interviews will be held by the board of public works at a later date.

computer technician. At present the machine is in the basement of Main Hall, but a special room has been designed for it in the Youngchild Hall of Science, and it will be moved when the building is complete.

According to experts, the 1620 is a fairly powerful machine that can read 80-column cards at the rate of 250 per minute, can punch cards at 125 per minute, and can retrieve information from its 40,000 digit memory in 20 microseconds, or 20-millionth of a second.

Academic problems can be translated into the machine's vocabulary with relative ease. More than 20 Lawrence faculty and administrative members took a course in machine programming during the Christmas vacation.

Golden Arm
Although the computer's function is primarily serious, a number of faculty members owe the machine considerable sums of money for its superiority in blackjack — the favorite demonstration of the machine.

First the human player gives the computer the blackjack tape, stating the rules of the game, presses some buttons and the machine begins to read. When the computer has read to the end, its typewriter begins issuing instructions. The human is requested to "push start," the machine deals the cards by typing out their descriptions, and the human is asked if he wants another draw.

If the human refuses to answer yes or no but responds with some whimsey, the machine gives its opponent three chances to behave. The first time it types politely, "Please enter yes or no." The second time it is firmer: Enter yes or no, forget the rest of the jazz." If the human persists in deviation, the machine bangs out: "Last chance. It is either yes or no." One final foolish retort and the computer announces: "You have had it." A red light goes on and the machine won't play.

Little Chute Phone Firm Shows Gain

Company Lists 4,483 Instruments In Village Area

LITTLE CHUTE — Telephone growth and construction projects highlighted the village's communication system in 1963, according to Richard Kuehn, manager of the Wisconsin Telephone Co.

A new high of 4,483 telephones are now used in the Little Chute exchange, an increase of 168 over 1962, according to a year-end review of telephone development, released by Kuehn. "Based on the total number of local originating calls, approximately 4.5 calls were placed daily from each telephone," said Kuehn. The Little Chute exchange includes Kimberly, Combined Locks, Town of Freedom and outlying rural areas.

Office Addition

A new central office addition, currently under construction, was added to meet the growth trend for the area, Kuehn explained. Major cable projects, including a $62,000 submarine cable across the Fox River, were completed to meet growth demands from Kimberly and Combined Locks and the Little Chute dial center.

Additional cable facilities were also extended to rural areas immediately adjacent to the city, meeting increasing customer demands for prime one and two-party telephone service. "A $3 billion expansion budget was set nationally by the Bell System to meet the challenge of growth in the communications industry," added Kuehn.

Expansion and research during the past year were dedicated partly in making world-wide communications as convenient as calling your neighbor, he said. International communications ties were strengthened by an expansion of submarine cable between the United States and Europe. The new cable tripled existing transatlantic telephone capacity, noted the manager.

In concluding he said, "The success of Telstar II, an experimental communications satellite, brought the full range of television, telephone, and data transmission, to a higher degree of global transmission development."

Sabin Vaccine Will Be Given At Nine Locations in County March 8, April 9 by Society

Outagamie will join the list of other Wisconsin counties administering oral polio vaccine when clinics are held at nine locations March 8 and April 19.

The program will be undertaken by the Outagamie County Medical Society, which intends to purchase the Sabin vaccine, according to Dr. Jack G. Anderson, society president.

Mass oral vaccination clinics have been held in several counties after being delayed in 1963 on the advice of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Four clinics will be in Appleton, and the other five elsewhere in the county. Specific sites will be announced soon by Dr. George Behnke, Kaukauna, general chairman for the program.

Vaccine for 75,000

Dr. Lloyd Williams, Appleton, consultant for communicable disease, will serve as medical director of the clinic project, expected to provide vaccine for an estimated 75,000 county residents.

Children and adults will be urged by the medical society to take the Sabin vaccine. The mass vaccination program has the approval of the U. S. Surgeon General's office, Wisconsin Medical Society and the State Board of Health.

Because dates for administering three doses of oral vaccine fall on Sundays, slogan for the project will be "Sabin-on-Sunday." Clinics will be open during the day only. Hours will be announced.

It has been estimated 800 to 1,000 persons can be vaccinated per hour. Recently, about 200,000 persons attended clinics in Dane County.

Participating Doctors
Most doctors in the county will participate in conducting the clinics.

First dose of type I vaccine will be dispensed March 8. Five weeks later, April 19, doses of types II and III will be administered.

The medical society will underwrite the purchase of vaccine from a drug company, and the charge to the public will be 25 cents for the first clinic and 25 cents for the second, a total of 50 cents for the three doses.

Oral vaccine will be administered on cube sugar, or with distilled water. Doctors claim there has been no reaction to oral vaccine.

Minimum Age
Children must be at least two months old to receive oral vaccine.

Planning for the countywide clinic has been underway for several months. "I think the oral vaccine is very safe and it is important
